Loan balance

Your total current balance for an installment loan.

Loan interest rates

The annual percentage rate you pay for this loan. Enter the current interest rate for this loan. This calculator assumes your rate will remain the same for the entire repayment period. We use this to calculate the interest you will pay on this loan and the number of payments that are remaining.

Loan payment

This is your monthly payment. Enter the actual monthly payment for your loan. We use this to determine your payment totals and to calculate the remaining payments.

Remaining loan payments

This is the calculated number of payments remaining for this loan. It is based on your current balance, payment and interest rate.

New loan balance

The amount for your new consolidation loan. The default amount will be the total of all of your debts. You can increase or decrease this amount if you need to change the total amount of the loan.

New loan payment

The monthly payment for your new consolidation loan.

New loan interest rate

The Annual Percentage Rate (APR) that you will pay on your new consolidation loan.

New loan term

The term, in months, for your new consolidation loan.
